

Audinate Announces 100th Adopter for Dante

Written by Roger Douglas
01. 10. 2013

Audinate's Dante digital media networking solution group has announced that Studio Technologies has become the 100th Dante OEM partner. Built on existing networking protocols and standards, Dante is a plug and play solution which delivers ultra-low latency, tightly synchronized media, while simplifying installation and configuration of digital media networks.

Dante is a scalable system widely deployed in thousands of installations today, ranging from hotels, transportation centers, shopping centers, public address systems, live sound reinforcement, theaters, concert halls, stadiums and athletic venues, corporate boardrooms, universities, broadcast facilities, recording facilities, houses of worship, government facilities and courtrooms. Over 3.5 million channels of Dante shipped last year.

Studio Technologies Inc., the manufacturer of tailored high performance audio, video and fiber-optic products, are used in broadcast, studio, stadium and corporate environments. Studio Technologies products are used worldwide.

Go Studio Technologies

Audinate Announces 100th Adopter for Dante

Written by Roger Douglas

01. 10. 2013

Go Audinate:100 OEMs Have Adopted Dante Media Networking