

NuVo Intros P3500 Player

Written by Marco Attard
10. 12. 2013

NuVo sets to launch the P3500 player at ISE 2014-- a 3-zone, rack-mount player for the NuVo Wireless Audio System able to simultaneously supply 200W of power per zone.

Installers can combine the P3500 with the P100 and P200 wireless players and the P3100 professional series player to create a customised audio solution covering up to 16 zones. All players can access network-stored audio libraries and streaming audio services, with control via free iOS and Android mobile device apps.

At ISE the company will also show the integration of NuVo components with 3rd party automation systems from the likes of Vantage, AMX, BitWise, Control4 and RTI.

“ISE 2014 will be a fantastic opportunity for NuVo to show our European customers some incredible recent developments for the Wireless Audio System,” NuVo says. “The numerous drivers released in the last few months provide our dealers with an easy-to-implement way to offer unparalleled, streamlined control.”

Go NuVo Technologies