Audio Authority announces a mobile device app for the control of the SonaFlex SF-16M Matrix Amplifier-- one using the SonaFlex zone control feature for quick source selection and volume control over wifi networks.

Users can also adjust bass and treble, turn on loudness and mute each zone.

The SF-16M features an open control architecture allowing full control via 3rd party home automation systems, including Control4, URC, RTI and Crestron. A full-featured setup utility for Mac or Windows allows installers to adjust every SonaFlex feature, from advanced DSP to Sound Scene presets.

The SonaFlex app is currently available in beta form on the Google Play Store, with an iOS version to soon follow on iTunes.
