Written by Marco Attard
12. 07. 2017

Mackie announces a complete refresh of the MR Series, the affordable powered studio monitor line designed for home studios, content creators and multimedia.

The line consists of the 5-inch MR524, 6.5-inch MR624 and the 8-inch MR824, plus the 10-inch MRS10 companion powered subwoofer. All are equipped with Acoustic Space Control and HF filters, and can be easily optimised for specific environments to ensure a flat response. There are three different acoustic space settings, allowing adjustment in case the monitors are placed close to walls or in corners.

In addition, high-frequency EQ control allows for further adjustment. Also included with each monitor is an acoustic isolation pad that decouples the monitor from the desk or stand for increased performance and accuracy.

The MR Series is available now worldwide.

Go Mackie MR Series