

ADSL2+ Routers Strong in Q1

Written by Bob Snyder
13. 06. 2008

ADSL2+ Network Routers represent 21% of the total router market in distribution in Q1 2008 (down from 22% in Q4), according to Context. France had the highest penetration of ADSL2+ in March, with 28% of sales, Germany at 25% and UK at 15%.

In these 3 countries, the best-selling ADSL2+ routers in Q1 2008 were all AVM products (FRITZ!Box, only sold in Germany), followed by Netgear's DG834N and D-Link's DSL-924.

Go ADSL2+ Routers Data