

Kaleidescape Automates its Disc Vault

Written by Marco Attard
23. 08. 2011

---

Kaleidescape expands its Disc Vault line with the M700, now able to store up to 320 of your customers' discs.

It simplifies installation through unattended automatic import-- copying large numbers of discs onto a Kaleidescape system, with import speeds of 15 CDs/3 DVDs/2 Blu-ray discs per hour.

Once copied, users can either leave their discs inside the player for storage or eject in order to free up space. However Blu-ray discs must remain in the vault to enable instant playback.

The front panel display shows all information on import progress, number of discs stored and available slots.

It integrates with any Kaleidescape system (including additional M700 units) via ethernet cable and includes its own M-Class media player with video outputs including HDMI, Component, S-Video and Composite.

Go Kaleidescape M700 Disc Vault