UK-based development team Extra Vegetables releases a driver providing connectivity between the NuVo Music Port Elite and Control4 automation systems.

This way users can now control Music Port Elite (MPS4-E) content and navigation through Control4 devices (Control4 OSD, remote and all touch panels) and iDevice apps.

The integration will also allow dealers to offer NuVo multi-amplifiers, tuners and keypads in their Control4 installations.

Using IP control the driver requires no additional cables to run, and it works with all number of audio outputs.

The driver is already available to download from the Extra Vegetables website.
