

Sanus Mounts Debut at CEDIA

Written by Marco Attard
17. 09. 2013

Sanus is set to launch the Premium TV Wall Mounts line at CEDIA Expo 2013, with a stand highlighting what the company says is a simple and intuitive installation line.

Supposedly built with a "high-end" aesthetic design and reduced hardware, the Premium line features 11 models ranging in size and position to cater for most, if not all, customer requirements.

All mounts include a magnetic level and stud-finder tool, fully assembled interface and pre-installed finger tightening fasteners. Key-hold wall plates, quick release tabs and audible safety locks make installation even installation.

The mounts also allow for adjustments to level TVs post-mounting, while a kick-stand pulls the TV away from the wall to allow the routing of all cables into the back of the TV after mounting.

The 11 Premium Series mounts accommodate flat panels ranging from 13-inch to 80-inch in size and up to 57kg in weight in fixed-position, tilting, full-motion and full motion plus SKU assortments, and all should be available from October 2013.

Go Sanus Debuts New Line of Premium TV Wall Mounts