Elite Screens launches the Starling Series-- an economically-priced electric projection screen line with metal casing in either gloss white or black.

The series features the Spectra White FG (fibre glass backed) matte white surface screen fabric, with 160-degree viewing angles and 1.1 gain.

Elite Screens says it also includes a quite and efficient synchronous motor.

Starling electric projection screens ship fully assembled with a complete set of IR and RF remotes as well as an in-line up/stop/down control box switch.

Available sizes include 100-, 120- ad 135-inch in 16:9 format.
