

Titan Launches World's Largest TV

Written by Bob Snyder
30. 06. 2014

British maker Titan launches the world's largest television: four times the size of the current biggest TV. If you are watching World Cup, Titan's largest Zeus at 8 metres by 5 metres is just bigger than the size of a football goal.

Titan hopes to score with Zeus, the world's first £1 million TV, and has already sold two. The screens, made for indoor use, can also be used outdoor in bright sunlight, says Zeus.

The 4K Titan Zeus displays 65 million colours and weighs in at almost a tonne. The cost includes installation and delivery in a custom-built Hummer.

Titan also creates 1000-inch "mid-range" screens for £150,000.

Go Titan Screens