Niveo Professional gets a new international sales representative-- Gary Vlaeminck of HexaconAV.

Vlaeminck has extensive experience in the AV and lighting control industry, having held sales positions with the likes of Liberty AV, Speakercraft and Lutron. At Niveo Professional he will be responsible for the development of new markets.

"We are very pleased with the appointment of Gary. His long experience and extensive knowledge of the industry fits perfectly in our focus for strong international expansion," Niveo Professional managing director Arthur de Jager says.

Niveo Professional sells enterprise-grade networking products, including switches, NAS, APs, UPS systems and routers, designed for professional AV integrators and commercial/domestic automation.
