

Science Fiction And Science Fact at IFA+ Summit

Written by Frederick Douglas
11. 07. 2018

The 2018 IFA+ Summit is all about cybernetics and AI, as the organisers announce Moon Ribas and Stephen D. Larson as industry speakers at the IFA think tank taking place on 2-3 September 2018.

Ribas is a Spanish artist with a sensor implanted in her foot allowing her to feel earth tremors tens of thousands of kilometers away. Meanwhile Larson is working on the OpenWorm project, with the aim to virtually replicate the human nervous system.

The message of the 2018 IFA summit is science fiction or science fact? The lines between the two are blurring. Other confirmed speakers include ex-chess world champion Garry Kasparov, CEO of Airbus company Voom Uma Subramanian and Jens Lambrecht, founder of Berlin-based startup Gestalt Robotics.

IFA+ Summit visitors also get to experience the full IFA tech expo, with VIP trappings including fast lane access, trade visitor breakfast and trade visitor lounge meetings.

Go IFA+ Summit