

CEDIA Announces Home Technology Event

Written by Marco Attard
03. 05. 2011

CEDIA Region 1 says a visit to its Home Technology Event this June is a must for Europe's custom installers, where they'll be able to check on the big brands and latest products and integration technologies.

The event covers home electronic system design, installation and integration-- including multi-room audio and TV distribution systems, home cinema, lighting, HVAC and security control, data networks and other electronic sub-systems.

This year will also include show floor workshops (with distributors holding dealer training and demo sessions), dedicated room sets and the Hub Seminar Theatre hosting sessions on the residential CI industry.

CEDIA will also offer certification opportunities throughout the show, as part of its education program.

Go CEDIA Home Technology Event