

The HDMI Cable with Built-in Repeater

Written by Marco Attard
10. 07. 2012

Covid ships a 30m long plenum-rated HDMI cable with a built-in repeater located inside the display end of the cable and powered by the source device.

The company says the cables are 24AWG, support 1080p resolutions and have a reinforced head preventing breakage due to strain.

A non-plenum rated version is also available.

Go Covid Cable Assemblies